

HOW MUCH DOES TIME COST?

While more people are surviving critical illnesses, they often need time off work to get back on their feet.

Even a small amount of critical illness cover could buy you the time you need to recover properly, without having to use up your hard-earned savings.

of women survive
breast cancer.¹

Four in five cancer patients are
result of their diagnosis.²

If you'd rather avoid being out of pocket, taking out critical illness cover could be time well spent.
